Summer Study

Summer 2020 Language Courses

We offer intensive Asian language courses in selected Asian languages that let you earn a year’s worth of language credit (15 credits) in nine weeks. Classes are held DAILY from 8:30 to 1:00 (including lecture and quiz components) for the entirety of Summer Terms A and B. Summer 2020 full-term and A term classes will be taught completely online. Non-UW students can register and take our summer courses. Please learn about the summer quarter application process and registration here, UW Summer quarter. Special Instructions for those who wish to study Chinese in the Summer:

1. You are required to fill out our online Chinese Language Evaluation Questionnaire. You need to be a registered Summer Quarter student in order to do this.

2. After this process, one of our instructors will send you an add code via email that you will use to register for the class.

3. Register for the appropriate Chinese language course using the online registration system as specified by the Summer Quarter. It is important that you register as soon as possible, since classes fill up quickly and add codes can be invalidated after a set period of time.
